Blunt Bob

The blunt bob is a classic, timeless style that looks great on all hair types. It is characterized by its sharp, straight edges and clean lines. Blunt bobs can be worn at any length, from chin-length to shoulder-length.

A-Line Bob

The A-line bob is a variation of the blunt bob that is shorter in the back and longer in the front. This creates a flattering A-line shape that is perfect for adding volume to fine hair or slimming down a round face.

Lob (Long Bob)

The lob is a longer version of the bob that falls just below the shoulders. Lobs are a great option for those who want the versatility of a bob without the commitment to a shorter length. They can be styled in a variety of ways, from sleek and straight to loose and wavy.

Layered Haircuts

Layered haircuts are a great way to add volume, texture, and movement to medium-length hair. Layers can be cut in a variety of lengths and shapes to create a custom look that suits your individual style.

Face-Framing Layers

Face-framing layers are a great way to add some extra oomph to your face. These layers are cut around the face to create a flattering frame that draws attention to your best features.

Long Layers

Long layers are a great way to add volume to fine hair or to remove bulk from thick hair. These layers are cut starting at the mid-lengths or ends of the hair to create a gradual, cascading effect.

Choppy Layers

Choppy layers are a great way to add some texture and movement to your hair. These layers are cut in a variety of lengths and angles to create a messy, undone look.

Haircuts for Different Hair Types

The best medium-length haircut for you will depend on your hair type. Here are a few tips for choosing the right style for your hair:

Fine Hair

If you have fine hair, you will want to choose a haircut that adds volume. Bobs and lobs with lots of layers are a great option for fine hair.

Thick Hair

If you have thick hair, you will want to choose a haircut that removes bulk. Layers and bobs with blunt edges are a great option for thick hair.

Curly Hair

If you have curly hair, you will want to choose a haircut that works with your natural curls. Layers and lobs are a great option for curly hair.

Straight Hair

If you have straight hair, you can wear any type of medium-length haircut. However, bobs and lobs with lots of layers are a great option for straight hair.

Medium-length haircuts are a versatile and flattering option for all hair types. With so many different styles to choose from, you are sure to find a medium-length haircut that suits your individual style and face shape.
